Go unto Him! ye weary, go! and He will give you wear.

I think the Divine sympathy was never more beautifully expressed, than in the foregoing lines. Though small our efforts of imitation may appear, they are not beneath the thought of Him who shall say in the day of Judgdment: "Insamuch as ye have done it unto the least of one of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

We may not have the needy poor at our door; but there frequently is some sick one whom we may cheer, and in many little ways help to brighten the weary hours. While it does not seem necessary always to visit those behind the prison bars, in order to carry out the literal meaning of the term; but that we should have sympathy and charity for all who are in trouble; remembering Mary Magdalen and the thief upon the cross.

Hemenway, the Mormon editor of the Ogden Herald, who has been under suspension of sentence for a month on three convictions of libel, was sentenced Monday, on one case to pay a fine of $200 and costs. Sentence was suspended on the other two cases. As a result of a raid on George Q. Cannon's house Saturday, several of his wives haves been required to give ball in sums of $200 each, and members of his families in sums of from $200 to $500. United States Marshal Ireland searched a number of houses where Mormon chiefs are supposed to live. He had a possee of 50 men, but they found nobody. The marshal offers a reward of $500 for the capture of George Q.

Saturday afternoon Joseph H. Sawyer, proprietor of a livery stable in Portland, was driving through the streets of that city, when he was taken suddenly sick and fell back in his sleigh. He was taken up and conveyed to the office of his stable, where a physician was summoned to attend him. After working over him for some time the dootor pronounced life extinct. The cause of his death was probably apoplexy.

A number of accidents were reported in the vicinity of Fairfield, Friday, from sliding on the crust, some of them very serious. A little son of Wm. Ballentine, who lives on the Tobey farm, was sliding in the field back of the house, and slid into a bunk fence, his head striking a knot in one of the rails, and fracturing his skull. He got up and walked a short distance and dropped unconscious. The little sufferer was altended by a physician, and is now in a fair way to recovery.

FOR YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, STATE OF MAINE—KENNER Insolvency. In the cases of Geo.

Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headache, irregular bowels. The liver se-cretes the bile and acts like a lter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspen-sions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhoa, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Billous-ness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. It acts upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

Mr. James S. Sanborn of Boston, has pur chased the widely known farm formerly owned by the late J. R. Pulsifer of Poland This farm has long been known as one of the largest and best farms in Androscoggi county, and celebrated for its extensive orchards. Mr. Sanborn is a native of An droscoggin county. The farm for the present will be under the oversight of Mr Elijah S. Daley of Greene. It is to be stocked with a herd of fine Holstein cattle some of which have already been forwarde but little intellectual training was necessary. A willingness to work on in the old routine, that has been transmitted from the practices of the past, was all that could be safely relied on for success. This narrow intelligent, present thought. The agriculture of to-day is not based on manualabor alone. The education of the menta in essential in fitting for the life work of an essential in fitting for the life work of the farm. Upon these, intelligence and labor combined, rests the hope of progress in agriculture. And yet it may be questioned if farmers fully appreciate the value to their children of a home training and education in the work and in the business of the farm. Each year there go out from the farms young men and women to assume the work of managing farms for them selves. Are these young men and women as well educated and trained in the work as well educated and trained in the work the sons and daughters of farmers, ought with their opportunities, to be?" We feat there is yet too much of indifference in parents in teaching their children the bushness of farming, yet also like it is the parents in teaching their children the bushness of farming, yet also like it is the parents in teaching their children the bushness of farming, yet also like it is the parents in the paren bess of farming, not only as a trade but as a profession. It ought to be kept constantly in view that the training and education acceded by the farmer can largely be learned at home, and that the practical knowledge thus gained will be of inestimable values as project.

There has been some discussion in Mass-achusetts during the past year over the law which requires milk to contain at least 13 per cent. of milk solids. Hon, George W. Sanderson of Littleton, Mass., in order to test the justness of the law, had samples of his milk analyzed, and the results are given in the Massachusetts e results are given in the Massachusetts Poughman. The milk was taken from his barn at 5.30 o'clock, A. M., Sept. 15, 1885. Charles Harrington, State Analyst, inspect-ed and analytzed it. The following is the result:

The average age of the cows was about five years; average time since calving, 105 days. These cows each had four quarts of shorts daily, and green rowen fed in the barn; this in addition to pasture feed of poor quality.

Edward Atkinson of Boston, widely known as a writer on political economy, has been trying to find out the cost on the farm of growing beef, particularly in New England. He has sought far and wide for this information, has recorted to the agricultural press and to the producer of the beef, on the farm, but so far with indifferent success, and apparently with little prospect of a definite answer. Bewildered with the inexplicable confusion which has apparently for the secondary to the producer.
